

Website: Reuters

Headline: Silver imports may jump 20%

Link: <http://in.reuters.com/article/idINIndia-53400220101207>

Date: 7th December, 2010

Coverage Page –

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying the Reuters article page. The browser's address bar shows the URL: in.reuters.com/article/idINIndia-53400220101207. The page features the Reuters logo and navigation menu with categories like 'News & Money', 'Sectors & Industries', and 'Analysis & Opinion'. A search bar is visible in the top right. Below the navigation, there is a banner for 'CONCORDE CUPPERTINO' with the text 'Lead the Millionaire lifestyle in the heart of the Electronics City, Bangalore.' and a 'Replay' button. The main article section is titled 'India's 2010 silver imports seen jumping' and includes a photo of a man holding several Indian 1000 Rupee banknotes. To the right of the article, there are social media sharing options (Recommend, LinkedIn, Facebook, Digg) and a 'Related News' section with a link to 'BUY OR SELL - Is silver sustainable at $30 an ounce?'. The bottom of the browser window shows the Windows taskbar with various application icons and the system clock displaying 12:47 PM on 12/8/2010.

This image is a close-up of the top navigation bar of the Reuters website. It features the Reuters logo on the left, followed by the word 'REUTERS' in large white letters on a red background. Below this, the text 'EDITION: IN' is displayed in white on a dark grey background. At the bottom of this section, the 'News & Money' category is highlighted in white on a dark grey background, with a small downward-pointing arrow to its right.

India's 2010 silver imports seen jumping

By Siddesh Mayenkar
MUMBAI | Tue Dec 7, 2010 8:57pm IST